A Visit to the World's Fair.

A Democrat Representative Gets Beyond his Sphere and Is Struck with Awe.

The White City on the Lake.

POINTS OF INTEREST.

Yes, we have been to the world's fair. And now to relate what we saw is the hardest task of all. We found it a conglomeration of all that is great and sublime. To one who has scarcely been beyond the narrow limits of his own immediate community, the white city by the lake and its wonderful production, the world's fair, is simply astounding. Our readers will please pardon us when we inform them that we cannot command language to describe it. The writer as a representative of THE DEMOCRAT in company with a large number of Texas editors left Dallas on the evening of the 12th of May bound for Chicago. We traveled over the Texas Pacific to Texarkana thence over the Iron Mountain to St. Louis, thence over the Wabash to Chicago. The swiftness with which we were safely carried to the great White City was in grand contrast to the transportation facilities extant when the little fleet of Columbus touched the shores of San Salvador four hundred years ago. On entering the suburbs of the city and beholding its towers in the distance including the World's fair buildings to the south east a feeling of awe is inevitable as one contemplates the scene laid out before him. Twenty-one years ago the cruel flames in demon like manner destroyed Chicago, the pride of the great north west. Miles of the once beautiful city lay in ashen ruins. Out of this molten mass the second Chicago arose phoenix like, the development of which has never been known in the history of nations.

The city extends along the Lake Michigan shore for over twenty four miles and is over ten miles wide containing a population of over a million people.

The main buildings of the city is constructed of the best quality of stone and range from ten to twenty stories high. The writer had the pleasure of standing on top of the Masonic temple which is the tallest building in the city, corner of State and Randolph streets. We are informed that where the heart of the city is located and which contsins the heaviest structures was once a marshy place. An express driver who was raised in the city, informed the writer that he remembered seeing boards nailed to stakes and stuck in differeni places in the vicinity of the Masonic temple, warning the public not to advance further as inundation would take place. Beneath this marshy soil is a blue clay under which is quicksand. One engineer claims that the business portion of Chicago stands on a crust which is only thirty feet thick, and has fears that the heavy pressure of the massive buildings will some day prove too much for this feeble foundation.

We wish that we could give a full detail of the sights we experienced in the city but our space will not permit. We will have to be content by briefly refering to the most noted points of interest. We visited Lincoln park, at the north end of the city, which is the leading park of the city and ranks among the best and most beautiful parks in the United States. The packing houses of Nelson Morris & Co. and Armour were visited The methods employed by these large establishments in handling meats are wonderful indeed. To illustrate the enormity of the business done, one company alone during the year ending May 1. 1893, killed 786,000 cattle, 673,439 hogs, and 378,741 sheep! the value of live stock received by the stock yards during the same period amounted to $253,836, 502!

Hay Market square is the scene of the great riot on May 4, 1886. A monument in honor of the officials is erected thereon. The square is small and the surrounding is dingy and tough looking.

Possibly no city in the United States has so many palatial residences as Chicago. The mansion of T. W. Palmer, a millionaire, stands just south of Lincoln Park fronting on Lake Michigan. It is a massive structure, fashioned after the English castle style and is built of the costliest stone and marble and said to be the finest mansion in the city. As we stood in the shadow of this palatial home we could not refrain from drawing a contrast between it and the thousands who live in hovels in this land of over production! The feeble cries of poverty are unheard by the sensual careless ear of wealth. These conditions may be "legitimate" but all must concede that they are not healthful signs but fill the future darkness. The United States, the most productive country on earth, should be filled with happy homes sufficient to contain every citizen who honestly toils beneath its flag.

Science has been lavish in its work for Chicago. A huge boat ladened with products from every clime steams up the Chicago river; a draw bridge turns to pass it by, while beneath river and all is a tunnel through which cable cars are passing ladened with human freight.

The Board of Trade building at the foot of La Salle street was visited by the writer and to say that we were "rattled," as we looked down from the gallery upon the trade hall floor, is putting it mildly. If institutions of this kind were extant during the origination of Holy writ no wonder we find the passage "money is the root of all evil." The floor to which we refer was filled to its utmost capacity by speculators or, properly speaking, with gamblers, each excitedly at work buying and selling futures—the products of the masses. We could not tell "heads nor tails" of the proceedings for the confusion was worse, if possible than that of a political convention—it was a mob—"commercial" anarchists in full dress parade!

We visited the cycloramas, Battle of Gettysburg, Wabash avenue; Chicago fire, Michigan ave; The Crucifixion or Jerusalem, all of which were master representations and worthy of seeing. The Libby prison, Wabash avenue between 14th and 16th sts, was visited. The moving of this building from Richmond was begun in 1888. Each piece of timber, stone and brick were numbered when taken apart. It took 132 cars to move it, and when placed together it was exactly as the original.

To better do our readers justice we hereby give a condensed description as taken from Belford's Monthly:

There are the stars and stripes blossoming against the tender blue of our northern sky waving gently over this one-time dwelling place of death and terror! Peace and sunshine lie upon the building like a benediction. Hatred, rancor, and the tumult of passion are gone; we are standing in the greatest and freest of modern cities, where the world is gathering to its supremest festival of brotherhood! Before us stands a great mile-stone in the progess of human liberty, a monument to the birth of peace. About us lie the fragments, as it were, of the battered gate through which we entered the present era; they are instinct with instructive interest.

Here lies a slab of steel from the rebel war ship, Merrimac; here a mass of iron plates from a water battery on the Potomac, with great holes torn through it by cannon balls and a 250 pound solid shot imbedded in its centre; here lies a huge torpedo, picked up in Mobile bay by Farragut, and here is an enormous chain which was stretched across the Hudson river at West Point in 1778, by Gen. Putnam, to prevent the British from ascending the river. The links of it are two feet long and weigh 150 pounds each. It is a remarkable relic of that early epoch, a strange chip from the storm-buffeted bridge, humanity was then building towards a larger liberty.

We lift the latch of the battered door of Libby and enter. It is a repository of strange and historic things. Here up on the right is a full length portrait of Major Thomas P. Turner, commandant of the prison from '61 to '65; before us stands the famous table up on which Generals Grant and Lee drew up the papers for the surrender of the Confederate army at Appomattox. Upon the table lies the original manuscrip of Gen, Lee's farewell address to his army, and an original battlefield order written by Gen Grant. Near by is a great rick of projectiles, illustrating the progress of invention in death dealing missiles: canister, chain shot, shell and solid shot, some of the latter of enormous size and weight. The large room is crowded with cases of historic documents and war relics, the walls are covered with portraits of eminent generals and statesmen. Guides, themselves once prisoners in this modern bastile, show the visitor about and explain the innumerable interesting features.

The twelve great rooms are filled with notable and priceless mementos of the past. Over 300 portraits of famous men adorn the walls, together with more than 4 000 other pictures of war scenes and events which were factors in the making of history. Here the visitor may stand by the fire place through which 109 Union officers made their escape from the prison in 1864, one of the boldest and most ingenious escapes in the whole history of war. Here is the bed on which the immortal Lincoln breathed his last, the chair in which John Hancock sat when he signed the declaration of independence, a chair from the home of Thomas Jefferson, and one from the residence of Jefferson Davis. Here is the original portrait of Columbus, painted by Sir Antonio Moro at the court of Spain, in 1543, and purchased by Mr. Gunther, in London, for $10,000. Here are the stove, goose and shears used by President Johnson while working as a tailor on the bench, a life mask of Lincoln and a death mask of Grant, the original will of John Brown, and the suit of clothes worn by Washington at his second inauguration. One might fill page after page with names of the rare and historic objects which makes this the greatest of all war museums. Its value and extent may perhaps be better illustrated by the statement that it is quite impossible to view it all in one day, and that several visits are necessary to grasp its details and magnitude.

Owing to the lack of space we will ask our readers to be patient until our next issue when we will say something of the World's Fair.

Chicago Short-Stops.

The editors took a pleasant excursion on Lake Michigan on the Whaleback, Christopher Columbus. This steamer was built especially by the world's fair and is the first of its type ever constructed. It is 362 feet long, carries 5000 passengers, elegantly furnished and lighted by electricity.

The wonderful contrast between Chicago and Wylie so frightened Tom Perkins, of the Rustler, that he returned home on double quick time.

The Publishers Guide of Dallas have our thanks for so effectually illustrating our sad experience with a boot-black.

All honor to Mr. C. A. Hardy of the Texas building for his kind attention to the boys at the fair.

Mrs. Taylor and two daughters, formerly of this city are located at 3158 Indiana Avenue and are prepared to furnish board and lodging at very reasonable rates.

As we were perambulating through the women's building in company with our friend E. W. Kirkpatrick, we halted in front of a stand where a member of the fair sex was engaged in selling apples. Mr. Kirkpatrick, with a hungry expression gazed upon the lucious fruit. Upon enquiry he was informed that the apples sold from 75 cents to $1.50 apiece. With an air of an expert nurseryman, Mr. Kirkpatrick objected to the price and remarked that he was not able to eat such high priced food. The good lady then informed him that he need not worry about Chicago prices on fruit—that her "apples" were only silk souvenirs!

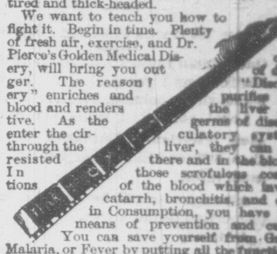
A LONG TRAIN


—of diseases follows bad blood and inactive liver. Every one knows when their blood is impure and liver sluggish; pimples and boils appear, or they feel drowsy, weak, tired and thick-headed.
We want to teach you how to fight it. Begin in time. Plenty of fresh air, exercise, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, will bring you out of danger. The reason? "Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood and renders the liver active. As the germs of disease enter the circulatory system through the liver, they can be resisted there and in the blood. In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite catarrh, bronchitis, and end in Consumption, you have the means of prevention and cure.
You can save yourself from Grip, Malaria, or Fever by putting all the functions of the body in a healthy state, besides building up healthy flesh, by taking the "Discovery." Better than all the emulsions of Cod liver oil which put on fat, but not wholesome flesh. G. M. D. is guaranteed to benefit or cure all blood disorders, or money refunded.

ADVICE.

"I must do as you do?',—Your way, I own,
Is a very good way; and, still,
There are sometimes two straight roads to a town—
One over, one under the hill.

You are treading the safe and well-worn way
That the prudent choose each time,
And you think me reckless and rash to-day
Because I prefer to climb.

Your path is the right one, and so is mine.
We are not like peas in a pod,
Compelled to lie in a certain line
Or else be scattered abroad.

'Twere a dull old world, methinks, my friend,
If we all went just one way,
Yet our paths will meet no doubt at the end
Though they lead apart to-day.

You like the shade and I like the sun;
You like an even pace;
I like to mix with the throng and run,
And then rest after the race.

I like danger and storm and strife:
You like a peaceful time;
I like the passion and surge of life;
You like its gentle rhyme.

You like buttercups, dewy sweet,
And crocuses, framed in snow;
I like the roses born of the heat,
And the red carnation's glow.

I must live my life, not yours, my friend,
For so it was written down;
We must follow our own given paths to the end,
But I trust we shall meet—in town.

THE idea that an income tax would be "confiscatory" come from those who believe that all taxation upon large wealth is confiscatory—the fellows and their sycophants who render $10,000,000 worth of property for $750,000, as in a case lately exposed in New York.—Fort Worth Gazette.

THE most nonsensical theory advanced in modern times is that of overproduction. On the same line of reasoning there might be an overproduction of profits on the capitalist's investment. The producer invests his labor and if nature pays a big return the shylocks of the country would have him poor on account of overproduction.

Twenty-two National banks have failed since January 1st. Thousands of corporations, firms and individual business men have descended the same Avernus involving many thousands of innocent persons in the general wreck. Australia has broken the records with failures since the beginning of the year amounting to $500,000,000. No wonder business is dull, and Muggins can't pay his rent.—Farm and Ranch.

The Fort Worth Gazette states that work on the Packery is progressing with all possible dispatch, but that there is much yet to be done. New machines, new buildings and improved apparatus are being provided, so that when the concern does start up, we will expect it to check the enormous shipments of cattle to Chicago and Kansas City heretofore, and now going on.—Farm and Ranch.

THE extension of the East line railway is a matter which will not down at any man's bidding It comes every now and then. The latest is a dispatch from Austin appearing in the daily papers last Saturday which said that the Sherman, Shreveport and Southern railway company the day before had filed with the secretary of state a stockholder's resolution by which is authorized the issuance of $6,000,000 first mortgage bonds in favor of the Central Trust company, of New York, trustee. The bonds are to be cashed and the proceeds used in paying for the main line, formerly the East Line, and Red River, and for extension from Jefferson to Shreveport,La., from McKinney to Whitesboro, and from McKinney to Decatur, as provided for in its charter.—Denton Chronicle.

Full of Hope.

In it? Well rather! Populist elected the mayor of Lincoln, Neb., by 300 majority—showed a gain of 800 votes in Pueblo, Colorado,—carried La Crosse, Wis., by a majority of 75 over both republicans and democrats—cast 3,500 votes in Pittsburg, Pa.,—over 2000 in Cleveland, O., against 200 last fall—swept Aurora, N. Y.,—doubled the vote in Stockton, Cal.,—defeated the republicans in the seventh congressional district of Massachusetts—elected true-blue reformers in hundreds of cities. It is a conservative estimate to place the present strength of the people's party at four times what it was last fall. In it to win.—Farmers Tribune.

Will Not Homologate.

The politicians want harmony and are fixing a scheme to parcel out the officers and then shout: "Glory! glory! the party is once more a unit in Texas!" Texas Farmer would whisper: Every honest man who supported Hogg in the late campaign would prefer a populist victory rather than have the old gang of corporation servants, headed by Geo. Clark, in power. Every honest populist would surrender the Ocala and land loan scheme and vote for anybody to defeat the Clark gang. They are out and must stay out at all hazards, and any fellow who attempts to homologate with them for political victory should be branded as the place hunter and conscienceless fraud that he is.—Texas Farmer.

Non-Partisan.

An effort on the part of some of the fusionist press of the state, is being made to prejudice the minds of the people against the efforts of Col. Ellington, president of the state alliance, to rebuild the order, by sneeringly referring to him as a "third party" partisan, as if there was no good in any man who is not a democratic partisan We venture the assertion that if Lon Livingston, the Gideonite, was in Col. Ellingston's place it would be all right, as he would be expected to reorganize it in the interest of the "dear old party:" therefore his work would be sure, enough non partisan. Verily, you are to believe that a democrat is non partisan, while all who differ with Cleveland are "offensive partisans." Do you catch on?—The Buford (Ga) Plow Boy.

Sweet Sixteen.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 18.—The sensation of the city tonight is the elopement of the wife of a young business man with her husband's partner. Kuhlman & Davidson is a commission and grain firm, the partners being John Kuhlman and J. W. Davidson. About three years ago Kuhlman married a beautiful young girl of 16 years, and all has been happy with them until to-night.

When Kuhlman went home for supper he found a note from his wife saying she was at her mother's and would not return until morning. A few moments later he found another letter informing him that she had left with his partner in business, J. W. Davidson, and would not return. A little after this a negro woman brought home their 2 year old child, which the young mother had left with her, but which she could not pacify.

The guilty couple bought tickets and checked their baggge for Chicago. A warrant, charging them with adultery, has been sworn out.

Chicago, the Fair and the Fire.

One of the most remarkable facts noticeable among the great influx of visitors to the fair is their keen interest in the great city, her past history and present wonderful growth, and the marvelous rebuilding that has taken place since Chicago was swept away by the flames of the fire of 1871. This is nowhere more manifest than at the Cyclorama of the Chicago Fre, Michigan Avenue and Madison street, where the beautiful effects that the artists have secured in painting the great conflagration are like nothing ever yet shown in cycloramic work;—the burning embers, hurled through the air by the hurricane that was blowing on that memorable October day, the toppling walls portions of which are shown in mid air, blown there by an explosion of giant powder, clouds of ruddy hue, tinted by the flames, the shadows of which are dancing on the doomed buildings—all so realistic as to be startling in the effect, and one can almost imagine the work of destruction to be at the moment going on.

The visitor to Chicago will find this one of the most interesting exhibitions in the city.

The Workingman.

There is a man who passes along the street in front of your house twice a day, with his little willow lunch basket in his hand. In the morning he goes hurrying by while you are still sleeping; and in the evening while you are sitting in your vine covered portico, he goes by again, his shoulders drooping and his feet dragging wearily. It is scarcely necessary to say that you never hear of him—that you will never hear of him, unless some time there should be an accident at the place where he works, in which event you might see his name among the list of killed and wounded. Yet I heard him the other evening, as he stopped on a corner to speak to a fellow-workman, and pushed back his greasy cap as he did so, "yes I'm pretnigh used up," he said, in those low, dull tones. "I've been doing double duty for about three weeks; working all day and settin' up with the baby all night. You know my wife's been sick an' not able to do anything. I watched pretty much all night, an' done the cookin, before I left home, and Mary and the children done the best they could—but it wasn't like I could have offered to quit an' stay at home with the baby. If I could have done that maybe it would a' got well. Maybe it would. I tell you it's hard to see your baby die because you're too poor to take keer of it like it ought to be. It seems like my heart'll break Sam—but I ain't got time to mourn, even. I've got to keep a goin' for the rest."—Houston Post.

Forty Years In the Ministry

Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Insomnia—Great Benefit From Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for four or five months, and am satisfied that it is a very excellent remedy. I have been troubled with rheumatism more or less for a number of years. My back and hips, and indeed my whole body at times, have been afflicted. The rheumatism has been especially severe in my right arm between the elbow and shoulder, which has been so lame that I sometimes feared

I Should Lose the Use of It entirely. I was in this condition when I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, but I had not taken more than a bottle or two when I began to feel better, and when I had taken four bottles, my rheumatism had entirely left me. I have been more free from rheumatism this season than for years. Besides the rheumatism, I, like many others of sedentary habits—for I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church forty years—have been troubled with dyspepsia, but while taking the medicine my food digested well and I have gained several pounds. I have also been troubled with insomnia, but since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, sleep much better." REV. W. R. PUFFER, Richford, Vt.

No Party Slavery For a Free People.

"The unit in democratic counties must always be the individual. To make the club, the clan or the party the unit is to minimize that freedom and sense of perfect independence in the voter that make up the very essence of true democracy." The Belton Journal quotes the above paragraph from The News and adds:

In a democratic state the individual is necessarily the unit. He has rights with which no majority can legitimately interfere. But when he deliberately and without compulsion joins the club, the clan or the party, agreeing to be governed by the majority, how can he exercise "perfect independence" without doing violence to the compact? No man is under compulsion to join the club the clan or the party, but when he does he is morally bound to yield to the majority where fraud is not clearly proven and established.

"Where fraud is not clearly proven and established" is latitudinous enough to leave every intelligent citizen untrammeled by the tricks and trading of ordinary American politics. If a man joins a political party and finds it filled with schemes, conspirators, and combinations to none of which he is willing to belong, it becomes his duty to assert his manhood and patriotism and disregard the behests of the self seeking bosses. A free, conscientious citizen has a right to quit a clan if he desires to do so. There need be no fraud whatever to justifying his doing this. He is under no contract for so much boodle, but joins with a patriotic desire to improve the public service. If he finds that the organization is not promotive of the public interest it is his duty as well as his privilege to quit. The Journal's idea that a citizen enters into an ironclad contract and agrees to be governed by the majority whenever he chooses to affiliate with this, that or the other party is merely a hereditary heresy that comes down from a feudal age of tyrants and vassals. The kind of homage that the Journal seems to approve is required in monarchies and czardoms that the free American people so heartily despise. The party masters and czars, in order to promote their own interests, have done everything possible to hold the American voter in old time vassalage and bondage. So successful have been their efforts and influences that they have held and still hold many good people of this so called land of the free under their power and command. Herein lies the danger of political armies. The only logical pretext upon a free citizen can be bound to vote a ticket against his will and judgment is found in the theory suggested by the Journal that he is under contract to do so. This theory clearly implies that he is to be paid some consideration for his vote. This consideration is not merely good public service, because if this were so his right to vote for the best man for the place must be conceded. Then the only consideration that could bind him must be outright bribery or a promise of office or of some lucrative job. In the case of a vast majority of partisan voters there is no such trading of valuable favors. The highest and only consideration should be good government. When one believes this can be obtained by scratching a ticket it is his sacred duty to scratch right down to the best men. In the end political parties will find it more to their interests to leave the people perfectly free. A majority of a million have no more right to interfere with the free ballot of a voter than a single desperado would have. Our theory of government leads right down to the freedom and patriotism of every citizen. The party that restrains the citizen in his conduct or in his voting is an enemy of democratic principles and of republican institutions. The right to vote according to one's own head and heart is an inalienable right of which no greedy or unscrupulous set of organizers can rob him. It is undemocratic, ignoble and dangerous for a citizen to yield up this right to any person or organization whatever. Voters will not always be tied and lifted around in bunches like poultry. It is going to become necessary for political parties to rely less upon the blind vassalage of the voter and more upon their own pledges and performances. All thoughtful persons must see that the ut most liberty to the voter is naturally required to make parties reliable and successful as agents of good government. Let every man's support be at all times a free matter of personal and patriotic choice to be accorded to the party of all others that teaches and approves just such freedom. An organization that relies upon shackles for success is merely a concretion of sacrilegous usurpers and superstitious slaves. The idea of a patriotic citizen being under obligation of contract to yield his convictions and conscience to a majority of the organization with which he has chosen to act is shocking equally to good morals and to sound public expedieucy. His suppost of a ticket or of a portion only of a ticket is a question concerning which he must be given the largest liberty in every democratic country. The voter should be perfectly free to support or oppose any nominee, even of his own party. He is bound by no consideration whatever to vote for a candidate whom he does not consider the most desirable applicant for the place. The political family that prefers to leave things absolutely free and to appeal to the voter by nominating the best men and by performing faithfully, and courageously all of its pledges, other things equal, is going to be the successfull party of the future. It will be a party that will despise shackles, threats, intimidation, taunts, jeers or other tyrannical and degrading devices, and that will rely upon its own merits rather than the ignorance, prejudice and cowardice of its supporters. It will consider every free American voter a unit that does its own voting and its own conuting. The democratic party is the party of all others that should advocate and encourage just this kind of free and invincible spirit on the part of the individual voter.—Dallas News.

Wonderful Jerusalem.

Jerusalem! What a world of thought is awakened by a single word spoken. Jerusalem—the loved, the hated, the idolized, the despised; destroyed and rebuilded again and again; the scene of the Savior's triumph and tragic death. The cradle of the Christian faith; the inspiration of humanity. How wonderful is thy history! What a theme for the poet and the painter. Every hill and valley so rich in tender associations, the very nerve center of religious history. Fortunately the ancient city and all the surrounding country has been reproduced by the painters' art in a great Cyclorama, showing the city in its glory under Herod, and at the time of the crucifixtion of the Savior. The view upon Calvary is a triumph of religious conception and artistic painting. The whole scene is bathed in a wierd twilight atmosphere that adds greatly to the intense realism of the whole. In connection with this great Cyclorama is the famous painting, Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem. These two superb historic works are on exhibition at the corner of Wabash Ave. and Hubbard Court, Chicago, just two blocks south of the Auditorium. No advance of price, we are informed, will be made during the World's Fair and one ticket admits to both exhibitions. Intending visitors to Chicago should make a note of them.

It Must Be Paid For.

Every line in a newspaper costs something, says a contemporary. If it is for the benefit of an individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent and must rent to live. To give away anything for less than living rates would be as certainly fatal as for a landlord to furnish rent free.—Press and Printer.

GRANT AND DAVIS.

The Widows of the Two Great Leaders to Meet.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant and Mrs. Jefferson Davis are to meet. The wives of the two great leaders will exchange their first greetings at Cranstons, on the Hudson, which is in sight of West Point military acadamy. The place has many associations dear to the hearts of both, as their husbands were graduated there. Mrs. Grant is now a guest at Cranstons and Mrs. Davis will stop at the same place. The two ladies will thus meet every day. Mrs. Grant, in speaking of Mrs. Davis' intended visit, said she hoped she would not disappoint her, as she did last year. She is very anxious to become acquaited with her. Mrs. Davis and her daughter, Miss Davis, are at the hotel Marlborough and will remain there until early in next week, when they will go to Cranstons. Mrs. Davis has expressed a wish to meet Mrs. Grant on the ground which is of such historic interest to both. She is greatly pleased with the kind expressions of interest Mrs. Grant has manifested in the coming visit.

Denton After the East Line.

DENTON, Texas., June 20.—Since the Sherman, Shreveport and Southern (East Line railway) people have filed the stock-holders' resolution authorizing the issuance of $6,000,000 first mortgage bonds to be cashed and a part of the proceeds from which are to be used in the extention of their line from McKinney west. Denton feels that it is now ready to talk business. The mass meeting held at the court house th-night in pursuance of a call from Mayor Poe was for the purpose of acting in the matter. The meeting was well attended and was called to order by Mayor Poe, who was made chairman. A committee consisting of Dr. J. P. Blount, J. M. Roark, John A. Hann, D. Head, A. E. Graham and John Bacon was appointed to confer with the officials of the road.

Changing Diseases.

In that delightful book, "Rider Grange," the husband of Pomona gives as his reason for not removing from a malarial neighborhood, that it don't do for a man at his time of life to go about changing his diseases and adding, that there are diseases incident to almost every locality, and he likes a disease he is used to.

Now, in case of malarial diseases, aside from the unwillingness of patients to "change diseases," it is generally not convenient to change their residences. If this were done in every case, some of our most thriving communities would be depopulated.

Nothing is left to do therefore but to fortify oneself against malarial influences. For this purpose Drs. Starkey & Palen's Compound Oxygen has proved itself in the past 23 years the most efficient thing in the world.

Any person desiring to change diseases for health should write us a plain statement of their case, when, if possible, the way will be pointed out. The consultation is without charge. Address Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch Street, Philadelphia, or San Francisco, New York, and Toronto, Ont.

It was grown on Indian creek near this city by W. T. Brown. Young Brown says there were many others in the patch quite as large.—Farmersville Times.

The colored people celebrated emancipation here last Monday. The McKinney and Melissa base ball clubs played a match game. McKinney nine scored 20 and Melissa 12. An entertainment was given at night by the Christian Endeavor society when essays were read and address by Prof. E. S. Doty. The McKinney colored cornet band rendered music

The McKinney Gazette in noticing our return from the world's fair says that we enjoyed ourself and looked well but was "as tough as ever." Well, if anyone has any knowledge of the "toughness" of THE DEMOCRAT and its editor, it is the Gazette. It is certainly a "tough" job for the "muscular" editor of the Gazette to compete with THE DEMOCRAT.

Fifty cents is a small doctor bill, but that is all it will cost you to cure an ordinary case of rheumatism if you use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The first application will quiet the pain. 50 cent bottles for sale by R. E. Bristol.

Medical Association.

The North Texas Medical Association is being well attended at Dallas. Those attending from this place, as far as we have heard are: Drs. J. E. Gibson, J. W. Largent, Albert J. Caldwell, I. E. Webb and O. H. Kirkpatrick.

Alonzo C. Bailiff has obtained a patent on a Hame Fastener which is an ingenious device and will prove a valuable article for all teamsters. It will be placed on the market at such a low price as to enable everyone to purchase it. Mr. Bailiff lives on the farm of Capt. J. S. Dowell, ten miles west of McKinney. We trust that our farmers will avail themselves of at least examining this valuable device.

The cussedness and concentrated hellishness exhibited recently, by some of the young hoodlums of McKinney, is getting decidedly unbearable. Many instances of misdemeanors, including even stealing, has come to the light. The parents and guardians of such, had better put a quietus on the business or else the offices should promptly attend to the matter. An effective preventative is better than waiting for the gallows.

Are you insured? If not, now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy as an insurance against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. It is almost certain to be needed and should be procured at once. No other remedy can take its place or do its work. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. E. Bristol.

I have opened up a new stock of groceries on east side of South Tenessee street, and will be happy to see all my old acquaintances and to make many new ones.

Report of Commissioner Hollingsworth.

McKINNEY, TEXAS.
Editor Texas Farm and Ranch.

Referring to report of May 13, 1893, made by Commissioner Hollingsworth to the Governor of Texas, the farmers and producers will find cause for congratulation. The Commissioner urges the State to follow the example of other states in encouraging industrial organizations by making appropriation for the purpose of disseminating useful information. While the Commissioner receives the praises of Agricultural and horticultural associations for this remarkable departure of a state officer, recommending state aid to them, there comes the fear that that the chief Eexecutive will, in the cause of state dignity, decide that this is class legislation, protection or paternalism, thus refusing any sugar of this kind. Be the decision as it may, the Commissioner does good service in presenting the question.

In line with the declared policy of our governor, the people may ask: Is not all this party conspiracy and brutal scramble for office and power a species of usurpation? Is not this dividing of spoils among a special few pure paternalism? Is not the payment of princely salaries from public money to special friends for formal service, protection? Considering the inequality of men and their opportunities, does not every human law necessarily bear unequally upon men, and therefore become class legislation? Numbers of people have a small suspicion that this great absorbing thing called government is taking the color of a colossal fraud, and only that portion of it is appreciated where the public receives a reasonable return for money spent. All laws are class laws, and all statutes are paternal.

To show futility of carping about class legislation and paternalism, we refer to the educational department of a government as purely paternal and class, yet the majority recognize it as one of the most important and indispensible departments. We pay enormous sums each year to the mills that grind out professional dudes and political barnacles, and nothing to the practical stools of every day methods of production. Some of the most intelligent and successful members of the industrial classes hold regular meetings and discuss and exemplify the most advanced and economical methods and exhibit the best results expose failures and discuss on respective cause and effect. Should our law makers ever appropriate a pittance for the publication of the proceedings of these meetings, it will be remembered that Commissioner Hollingsworth called their attention to this important matter.

Without our system of railway transportation, this present population could not exist Favorable legislation brought this transportation. It is generally conceded that without more diversified production our present population cannot safely advance. Favorable legislation will bring that diversified production.

E. W. KIRKPATRICK.

Hold-Up Tried.

DENISON, Tex., June 15.—From parties who came in to day from the north on the noon train your correspondent learns that an unsuccessful attempt was made to hold up the southbound Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train last night at Moran Tank, a short distance above Parsons. The robbers, two in number, had the engineer and fireman covered, but the other train men anvanced to their aid and frightened the robbers away before they reached the express car. The Unloaded Pistol.

HALLETTSVILLE, Tex., June 15.—Harry Clark and his brother live alone on a farm near town. At noon time while the Clarks and the colored cotton choppers were resting, Harry Clark took out a pistol and began cleaning it, thinking it was unloaded. There was one load in it, however, which exploded. The bullet passed through the body of Tobe Clark, killing him instantly, and then entered the thigh of Oscar Todd, injuring him seriously. Clark was arrested and admitted to bond.

First Cotton Bloom.

GREENVILLE Hunt Co., Tex., June 16.—Lee McMillan, living six miles east of Greenville, brought in the first cotton bloom of this season yesterday. His farm is in the sandy land in the eastern part of the county and the wet weather that has injured the black land crops has not hurt the cotton in the sandy section.

Also for sale, an undivided league, 4428 acres, square shape, richest plains land, in Bailey county, on long time.

The Great Southern Remedy.

People should not be deceived into paying money for trashy mixtures gotten up to sell. Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) which has been made in Atlanta for the last fifteen years, never fails to give satisfactionas a superior building up tonic and blood purifier. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician. The bottle is large and the dose small. See their advertisements and buy that which is thoroughly endorsed by thousands of grateful patients whom it has cured. A trial bottle will test its merits.

Velasco.

Go to Velasco for health, sea air, and comfort; where deep water is a fact and not a promise; where ships too deep for any other Texas port sail into the harbor with ease, where the cheap soil the best in America, for fruit growing, gardening and farming. Fast daily trains over Velasco Terminal R'y. Excursion each Saturday from Houston, return Monday. Write the Commercial Club, Velasco, Texas.

The people have spoken. They have said the world's fair shall be kept open seven days in each week. To do otherwise would leave on the hands of those who have invested in it a white elephant. It is not a Chicago fair or a United States fair, but a world's fair, in which all who have invested in it and consequently are represented there should have a voice in its management. Millions have been spent by those who do not live in the United States toward making this fair a success, and they cannot be expected to cater to the peculiar views of a minority in this country—and they are not going to do it.—Dallas News.

Mr. Black, a democratic representative in Congress from Illinois, draws a pension of $100 a month for total disabilities from injuries received during the war. It occurs to the average citizen that a man capable of serving in congress and drawing a salary of $5,000 is not totally disabled. It occurs also to the average citizen that if things of this kind are to be allowed to continue, the solid south may fail to report at Mason and Dixon's line when the next national election comes.—Favorite (Dem.) Bonham.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

DONBS FERRY, N. Y.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE COLORADO LAKE CHAUTAUQUA.

The Colorado Lake Chautauqua Association (an organization existing under and by virtue of the laws of Texas) takes pleasure in announcing the following as coming within the perview of its aims and purposes:

First. "To promote the habits of systematic reading and study in nature, art, science, history, secular and sacred literature, in connection with the routine of daily life; to give college graduates a view of the college course; to secure for those whose educational privileges have been limited, the college student's general outlook upon the world and life, and to encourage close, connected, and persistent thinking."

Second. To provide ways and means of furnishing to the teachers of Texas, at the latest practicable cost, facilities for improving themselves in the science and art of teaching, as well as for acquiring a deeper and more thorough knowledge of the subjects embraced in the common school curriculum.

Third. To provide, at moderate cost, for all classes of our people—the lawyer, the physician, the merchant— suitable place and a periodical opportunity for unsurpassed physical recreation, and for mental, moral and spiritual elevation and improvement.

To carry out these purposes the Association has purchased one of the most eligible pieces of property to be found between the dam and the head of the lake navigation. It comprises about 1200 acres of land situated two and one-half miles above the dam, as the crow flies, or six miles by water, on the south bank of the Colorado river, on which has a frontage of three and one-half miles. The conformation of the land and the nature of the soil are such as to give it a drainage that is well nigh perfect. After the hardest rains, the surplus water at once passes down gentle declivities into the Colorado or one of the small tributaries. For this reason the property is remarkably free from that trio of pests, mud, malaria and mosquitoes.

Among other advantages characteristic of this property may be mentioned its easy accessibility, by land and water, from Austin; its high elevation above the sea and the surrounding country; the extensive and beautiful views that may be had from its many high points, and the full view of the Colorado lake.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Much of this property has already been divided into blocks, lots, street, alleys, drives, walks, and parks and is now of record.

On Chautauqua hill, that seems to have been designed by nature for this purpose, there is in course of erection a pavillion that, in point of architectural beauty, adaptability to its purpose and seating capacity, cannot be equaled south of Mason and Dixon's line. On the brow of this hill overlooking the lake, one hundred and fifty feet above its surface, commanding a matchless view of it in either direction for several miles may now be seen a that cannot be duplicated on the continent. No description of it can give one even a tolerble conception of its superior excellence. It has to be seen to be appreciated.

Among the contemplated improvements in the near future is where Texas youths may receive such a character of training and instruction as will fit them for pursuing their studies further in college or university, or for entering upon the active duties of life. The site of this institution, known as is one of unsurpassed fitness and beauty. It is an ideal place for "rearing the tender mind," for fashioning the plastic child into a model man. It is sufficiently near the city for religious and social purposes, and sufficiently far to escape moral and physical contamination.

It is a part of the contemplated plans to erect a large, commodious and on a site that seems by nature best adapted for this purpose. The object of this hotel will be to secure the patronage of those persons who seek refuge from the hot, malarial atmosphere of Southern Louisiana and Texas, in the summer season, and likewise to accommodate in the winter season, those who flee from the rigor of northern winters.

WATER.

The association will at once provide for an abundant supply of water. The feasibility of using electricity for pumping water has been satisfactorily demonstrated, and the power at the house at the dam will furnish electricity for this purpose.

It is a fact worthy of remark that the Chautauqua grounds are as near to the dam as Austin is. Hence all persons who may conclude to live permanently at the Chautauqua will have all the advantages of the city, with none of its disadvantages.

There will be three (possibly more) landings for every variety of river craft. The landings will be built with special reference to large boats.

An inclined railway will be constructed from one of the landings to the top of Chautauqua hill.

LIGHT.

The same wire that is to carry the electric fluid for pumping water in the day time, will be used at night for lighting the pavillion and private residences. The cost of this lighting will, in the opinion of Mayor McDonald, be much less than that made by kerosene and far more convenient.

TRANSPORTATION.

Captain Sheperd is now engaged in the construction of a big boat that will have a carrying capacity of 2000 people. This boat will make schedule trips and have a special landing place on the grounds of the Chautauqua association. In addition to this, every character of craft will ply between Austin and Chautauqua and fully meet, at small cost, all possible demands of transportation

SAFEGUARDS.

All persons who may cast their lot with the Chautauqua are assured that every precaution will be taken to protect them in their lives, morals and manners. None but persons of unquestionable character will be admitted to its privileges. Wine, whisky, beer, and all other things that tend to lower the moral srandard, will be studiously excluded from the Chautauqua grounds. A special police force wil be on duty day and night to see that no one infringes the Chautauqua regulations.

AMUSEMENTS, RECREATION, ETC.

For the guests and patrons of Chautauqua the sources of amusement and recreation will be numerous, varied and of a high order. The lecture platform will be filled by the best talent that can be secured. Within the walls of the great pavillion the voices of the ablest lecturers in America will be heard. All questions and all shades of opinions will be represented. The Chautauqua is to be the people's great university, where all classes of men and women may come and drink deep and long draughts of, knowledge. If one would hear the ablest and most modern and advanced thoughts on art, science, literature, history, religion, and economics, let him come to Chautauqua and he will hear them.

If one has fallen into a state of physical dilapidation and desires to recover most speedily his lost ground, he will find at Chautauqua all the physical appliances for building himself up anew. If one be fond of water he may swim, sail, row, or recline on the spacious deck of a palatial steamer. He may walk, or ride on horseback, or over long stretches of fine mountain roads, and at every step view a scenery that for softness, mellowness and beauty can not be surpassed. That rare combination of earth, sky and water from which the poet and painter draw their inspiration is to be seen here in the highest perfection.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

The situation of Chatauqua with reference to Austin, together with the nature, scope and variety of its exercises, renedrs it very necessary for a large number of people to remain permanently on the grounds during each season. The necessity of meeting the demands of this class of patronage is obvious. To this end a considerable part of the grounds have been divided into lots for camping purposes. These lots are being sold at reasonable prices and on very easy terms. The purchaser of a lot may buy a small tent or erect an inexpensive cottage on his lot and do his own cooking on a cheap scale, or, if he prefers, he may sleep in his tent or cottage and take his meals at a restaurant, which the Association will erect at some convenient place on its grounds; or, if he is financially able he may live in a sumptuous style at the hotel that will be erected for the accommodation of this class of patronage.

By these means one may live as inexpensively as he pleases at Chautauqua, and still live comfortably and enjoy all its advantages.
